"I've included all information available in this list, i.e. in addition to the bibliographical info I've put down whenever a thesis contains a grammar part (in square brackets) and/or dialect specimens (Survey of English Dialects specimens are indicated by < > brackets). The latter info might not be so important to future users, so feel free to delete it. If no additional info is given in brackets below the bibliographical entry itself, the thesis is purely phonological" [TH].
