

LEEDS UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

Special Collections MS 622

Index of writers of letters to Frank Beckwith (1904-1977), sometime librarian of the Leeds Library

Frank Beckwith was born in Leeds and spent his entire working life here. After leaving the Leeds Central High School he became an assistant in the University library in 1921 and later concurrently read for a degree. He graduated in 1928 and took his MA, with distinction, in 1936. Having been promoted to an assistant librarianship, he was largely responsible for the transfer of the library's stock into the new Brotherton Library in 1936. From 1937 until his retirement in 1969 he was librarian of the Leeds Library, now the oldest proprietary library still operating in the country. In 1943 he helped to found the Association of Yorkshire Bookmen and was to remain active in its affairs, editing its Broadsheet for many years. Apart from routine work at the Leeds Library, he pursued various antiquarian and historical interests especially Baptist church history and the history of 18th-century libraries. He published important work in both fields, particularly 'The Eighteenth-century proprietary library in England' (Journal of Documentation, volume III (1947) pp. 81-98) and The Leeds Library 1768-1968 (1968).

This collection of more than 1200 in-letters reflects his many interests. Perhaps the most interesting group of letters comprises those from Paul Kaufman and D P Varma on the history of libraries. Other letters, mostly from earlier in his career discuss current library activities and comment on mutual acquaintances; these correspondents include Richard Offor, Fanny Passavant, G O Randle, Margery Robinson and Geoffrey Woledge. A third group of more recent date discusses current historical research especially on 19th-century topics; these correspondents include Asa Briggs, M G Brock, Cedric Collyer, Norman Gash, H J Hanham, R J Morris, D Read and J T Ward. There are also letters from Kate, widow of Professor A S Turberville. Lastly, letters from George Wright illuminate conditions in the West Indies in the 1930s and during the Second World War, and others from J B Place include interesting comments on colonial society in Kenya immediately after the War.

This index is arranged alphabetically by the names of writers. Under each writer the numbered letters are arranged chronologically against the appropriate year. Some writers are more fully identified than others but those with more than one occupation are normally described by that more relevant to the correspondence. Those described as 'bibliophile' were writing to him in connection with the affairs of the Association of Yorkshire Bookmen.

The letters form part of a much larger collection of Beckwith's papers which were presented to the Library by his family after his death; these papers have yet to be catalogued. We are especially grateful to Mr Geoffrey Woledge, a close friend of Frank Beckwith since the late 1920s, for much varied help. His own preliminary list of Beckwith's writings appeared in Publications of the Thoresby Society, volume. LVI (1981), pp. 198-204.

IMPORTANT NOTE

Letters less than 30 years old may not be consulted except with specific permission from the Librarian.
